Congratulations to our Graduates

It is hard to believe that graduation season is upon us. For the past two weeks I have been attending the Baccalaureate Masses of our High School students who have reached that great milestone in their lives. I am proud of their accomplishments as parishioners of Saint William Parish. It is nice to see the good young men and women that they have become over the last four years of their high school experience. It is our wish for them that as they begin the next phase of their journey to adulthood that they will carry the principles and values they learned from their Catholic education with them.

We also congratulate our eighth grade graduates. According to my count, 13 young men and women are completing their elementary education and moving on to their High School years. As a parish community we wish them all the best as they enter into what is the most formative of years on many levels.

Finally, Saint William parish congratulates all of our parishioners who are completing their college and graduate studies. I have no way to track them but we wish them well all the same.

May God Bless all of our Graduates!

It is the smallest of all seeds, and becomes the largest of plants

(Mark 4:26-34)

Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

On Sundays in Ordinary Time, the Old Testament reading is selected for the light it sheds on the day's Gospel. Today, Ezekiel sees God lifting up the lowly tree and making the withered tree bloom. So in the second parable of today's Gospel, Jesus encourages us by promising that, as fragile seeds grow into an abundant harvest, and the tiny mustard seed into a hearty plant, so God will grow the kingdom from small beginnings to an instrument of salvation for all. In the first parable, the land yields fruit "of its own accord" (Mark 4:28). Not only is the initiative God's, but the parable teaches that the seed's growth, though invisible at first, is actually unstoppable! To be sure, those who depend on the impressive or dramatic in order to be convinced or encouraged will be disappointed in the slow unfolding of the kingdom that Jesus announces. But for those who do accept the kingdom, all is grace, and that grace is certain.

Though the second reading is not coordinated with either the first reading or Gospel on these Sundays, today's is thematically appropriate. Saint Paul argues that our experience of God's trustworthiness thus far should make us a people of undaunted courage and unshakeable faith. But at the same time Paul warns that faith should also make us aware of our responsibility to do good.
